CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR
COMPLIMENTS EDWARD H.
WESTON, CAMERA ARTIST.

In the little city of Tropic, adjacent to Los Angeles, is the portrait studio of Edward Henry Weston, whose sudden rise to prominence in the world of artistic photography has attracted much attention among those who follow such work closely, says the Christian Science Monitor.

From comparative obscurity, Mr. Weston has, in the course of a year or a little more, reached a point where he may be considered one of the leading pictorialists in his line in America, and his work across the ocean, at the London salon, has been especially noticed.

The London Salon of Photography, held in the galleries of the Royal Society of Painters in Water Colors, is the leading yearly exhibit of pictorial photography. No awards are given, it being considered sufficient honor to have a picture hung. The honorary secretary of the salon, Bertram Park, artist photographer, when asked by a London magazine his opinion as to which was the best work in the entire exhibition of pictures, by 150 photographers, most of them noted artists, answered as follows:

"Which is the best picture in the salon? That is a truly difficult question to answer, but I can tell you which I think is the best group of pictures by the same artist. They are Nos. 98, 107, 153, 169 and 172 by Edward H. Weston of Tropic, California.

"Mr. Weston is evidently a man of original ideas, sound technique, a refined artistic perception and sense for decoration. I cannot remember having ever seen any of his work before, and it is a very great pleasure to welcome a newcomer whose pictures show such a distinctive personality. No. 107, 'Toxophilus, a Decorative Study,' is truly decorative, an extremely interesting study of a nude archer. There is very little modeling in the tones, which gives one almost the impression of silhouette. No. 98, 'Summer Sunshine,' is a more elaborate arrangement, with full modeling, but nevertheless a very narrow range of tones—an admirably posed full-length figure of a laughing girl in a rather dim light of suffused sunshine. No. 153 is an essay of quite a different character—'Child Study in Gray.' A still narrower range of tones is used in delicate gray of a style which might be described as 'Cadysque,' a description which will be readily understood. The expression of the child's face is delightfully natural, fresh and sparkling—in its own way quite a masterpiece.

"No. 169, 'Carlota,' another portrait, is in a lower key. The model, as in the last mentioned, is lit from top and from the rear, so that her face is mostly in shadow with a halo of light illuminating her profile. There is a charming softness about the work, a softness which is so different from fuzziness, and an atmosphere of refinement and mystery which is exceedingly attractive. In the last five years at the salon we have had perhaps too many Austrian, Hungarian and German prints, among the chief characteristics of which are a forceful, almost brutal, strength, and rich decisive tone values, so that the delicate elusiveness of the pictures I have mentioned appealed at once as something which gave a fresh outlook and a welcome change."

Mr. Weston is an enthusiastic worker. He believes the quiet and beauty of a small village are conducive to a higher reach of artistic expression than the commercialism of a big city and intends to let the people find him in the little town where he has won his reputation.

NOTED LECTURER.

The meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association at the high school tomorrow night promises to be one of more than ordinary interest.

Mrs. C. H. Toll will have charge of the refreshments. She will be assisted by Mrs. Lord, Mrs. George E. Adams, Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Hansen and Miss Holloway.

With the third semester of the school year closing this Friday, the Glendale Union high school is a busy place. Quarterly examinations, finishing up of work in general, and plans for a vacation week just crowded with fun occupy the students' minds.

Miss Mead, who so kindly consented to sing the leading part in the cantata, is a resident of Tropic and student of Mrs. Catherine Shank, of Riverdale Drive, this city.

Oral Expression Program In Morning.

Friday morning at 11 o'clock in the auditorium, three oral expression classes under the direction of Miss Abbie C. Terry, will present scenes from Silas Marner, the famous character work by George Eliot. In the scenes presented, the story will be brought out by the dialogue. The different scenes will have the same characters portrayed by different students in order to give a greater number a chance to show their histrionic ability. Following is a brief summary of the scenes to be presented:

1. "The Rainbow" house where Silas is robbed of his gold.

2. New Year's night at the "red house" of the squire's where the party is in progress. In this scene the romance of Godfrey and Nancy is brought out and Eppie goes to live with Silas.

3. Eppie decides that Silas' home will be her home.

Patrons and friends of the school are welcome to attend.

Easter Bonnets Being Made.

Miss Holloway reports that her advanced sewing girls are very busy millinery their own Easter headwear and some mighty pretty creations will be the result of this work.

J. A. PIRTLE, KING AGENT,
ERECTS MODERN SHOW ROOM AND SERVICE STATION.

J. A. Pirtle has taken the agency for the San Fernando valley for the King motor car and if enthusiasm counts for anything, Mr. Pirtle will place many of these cars in the valley. He believes in the King and he thinks it surpasses all other cars made. It is an eight cylinder car and Mr. Pirtle has its good points at his tongue's end.

Believing so thoroughly in the King, Mr. Pirtle is building a magnificent show room and service station at Brand Boulevard and Colorado street. The building will be 54x100, with tile floor and all the many features that go to make the up to date automobile show room, a modern palace fit for a "King."

There is no location in Glendale that surpasses the one Mr. Pirtle has chosen for a show room and service station and the new building which is being rushed to completion will be a credit to Glendale.

Mr. Pirtle expects to occupy the new building within sixty days but prior to that time he will transact business in Mr. Borthick's office next door.

The King has been a popular car in the east for several years but is new on the coast owing to the limited output. Doubling the capacity of the factory will doubtless be the means of making the car very popular throughout the west.

MORE GOOD PEOPLE HERE.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Longdon of 1044 North Brand Boulevard are entertaining the doctor's daughter, Mrs. Edna L. Connor and daughter, Mignon of Seattle, Washington, also Mrs. Helen Howell and son, Morris, of the same place. The doctor's daughter stopped here in February last on her way from Chicago to Seattle and all are so charmed with the Southland that they have decided to make Glendale their home and have taken the furnished bungalow of Mr. Charles Lyon at 425 Cedar street.

Mrs. Connor is an accomplished musician and a graduate of Chicago Musical college while Mrs. Howell is an acknowledged authority on the latest in ladies' suits. We welcome these accomplished ladies to Glendale.

MRS. DAVIDSON ILL.

Mrs. William H. Hyatt of 1634 West Broadway received the sad news by wire this morning, that her mother, Mrs. Julia Davidson, who went to Spokane, Washington, last November is lying at death's door and no hope is held for her recovery. Mrs. Davidson has many friends in Glendale, who will grieve to learn of her illness.

HEACOCK NOT A CANDIDATE.

A. B. Heacock who has served on the board of trustees of the Glendale city school district for the past three years and whose term expires this spring wishes us to announce that he will not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Heacock has shown a spirit of wishing to have everything for the best interests of the children and as both a patron of the schools and as a teacher he has been very able in the capacity of a school trustee. Members of the Parent-Teacher associations and patrons of the school have urged Mr. Heacock to be a candidate to succeed himself but he has positively decided to retire.

TO CONTINUE.

At the First Congregational church, Third and Central, a special service will be held this evening at 7:45 o'clock. The pastor will speak on "The Place of Joy in the Life of the Soul." There will be good music. Bring the Brown and Curry song book. It is expected that the interest and attendance of last week will continue.

BIBLE STUDY AT BAPTIST PRAYER MEETING.

Pastor Troy will commence a systematic study of first and second Corinthians at the Wednesday evening prayer service of the local Baptist church. These epistles were written to Gentile Christians and have direct application to the church of today. They are the epistles of church order and no intelligent member of the Gentile Christian church can afford to remain ignorant of the contents of these two important epistles of the New Testament. Several months will be required to complete the study and all who commence this evening and complete the entire course will make a definite advance in Bible knowledge. Plenty of time will be given for prayer and testimony and the famous Brown and Curry song book will be used.

At the close of the prayer meeting there will be a special session of the board of deacons to assist the new converts in preparation for baptism Sunday evening. All to join by experience or letter are also urged not to neglect to be present this evening.

TALK FIFTH CLASS CITY

MEMBERS OF MUNICIPAL LEAGUE DISCUSS CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT.

A member of the Municipal league of the city of Glendale called up The Evening News office this morning and gave out the information that one of the principal questions up for discussion at last evening's meeting is to advocate a change in the form of government of Glendale from a sixth class city to a fifth class city.

One of the provisions in a fifth class city government is that the city be divided into wards, and that a trustee or councilman be elected from each ward.

The columns of The Evening News are open to an intelligent discussion of the merits of a fifth class city government vs. a sixth class city government.

P. E. O. ENTERTAINS B. I. L.'S.

Chapter "L," P. E. O. met at the home of Mrs. Mable McFadden of 1446 Hawthorne street on Tuesday evening. After the business session the gentlemen were invited in for the rest of the evening. The program was an Irish one and was as follows: Paper on Ancient Ireland, by Mrs. Josephine Bryant.

The Irish Poets, Mrs. Pearl Tower. Mr. Owen Emery sang "Come Back to Erin," and "Killarney."

Miss Monica Smith gave a very interesting talk on her trip through Ireland, which she visited about a year and a half ago.

Then everyone responded with an Irish story, and the evening was closed with general hilarity and excellent refreshments served by the committee consisting of Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Evans and Mrs. McFadden.

Of course the decorations were in green and white. There were about sixty present, and this was one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year.

BIRTHDAY DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. E. D. Yard of 127 North Maryland avenue, gave a little dinner party on Tuesday evening in celebration of the fourth birthday of one of her Sunday school class, Master Lewis Albert Brown. It was also Mrs. Yard's own birthday and Master Brown and his loved teacher celebrated the day together. The decorations were of green and white, calla lilies and orange blossoms being tastily combined with greenery. A delightful three course dinner was served at which the place of honor was occupied by the white birthday cake with four green and white candles on its top. Covers were laid for Master Brown and his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Yard and Waldo Yard. The evening was spent in playing games and a fine time was enjoyed by all.

BURBANK FIRE.

The Glendale fire department received a call about 7:35 Tuesday evening from Burbank, asking assistance in extinguishing the flames that were demolishing the Presbyterian church in that city. The truck made a record run but the fire had gained such headway that the Glendale fire fighters could be of little assistance. Only two walls of the church are left standing. The origin of the fire is not known. It started in the rear of the building. The loss is said to be $2000 with $200 insurance.

PRISCILLA CLUB.

$100,000 IN PUBLICITY

CALIFORNIA ORANGE DAY CELEBRATION OF MUCH ADVERTISING VALUE.

That the 1915 celebration of California Orange day on March 20 throughout the country was declared to have been the most successful affair ever pulled off by any state in the union was the expression of the members of the general committee held last evening at the realty board rooms.

The total cost of the celebration was less than $2000, while it was conceded that the publicity given the citrus fruit industry, and California was worth close to $100,000.

It was voted to start the 1916 Orange day campaign early in the fall so that more complete arrangements may be made and that the money required will be in the bank before any indebtedness is incurred.

It was the sense of the committee that Orange day parades be held in both Chicago and New York, March 20, next, and that California oranges be provided for both demonstrations.

POPPY LUNCHEON.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the poppy luncheon given by Mrs. A. N. Lord of 127 North Brand Boulevard on Tuesday afternoon. It was in honor of Mrs. Emma Hill of Michigan, who is visiting here. After dinner Mrs. Hunchberger chaperoned the girls to the Palace Grand where they enjoyed "The Rose of the Rancho."

SWAT THE DOG.

GLENDALE, CAL., MARCH 24.

PIGS IS PIGS.

Under a municipal ordinance in Los Angeles, a pig must have no less than one acre upon which to live, if that acre is within the city limits.

Two pigs on less than one acre is an approach to high misdemeanor. At least that is the way Chief Inspector Potts of the health department interprets the law.

Two little white pigs were brought to the city and placed in a pen on East Seventh street, Los Angeles. They were ordered away.

Tuesday these two pigs were found in a window at No. 322 West Fifth street, where they were used by real estate salesmen to help stimulate the sale of land.

Complaints reached the health department that the laws of health and sanitation were violated by the two piggies, and Chief Inspector Potts sent inspectors to give the porkers the once over.

They found the pigs. The floor in the window was littered with straw and clean, but it was not two acres of space.

There was nothing unhealthful about the place, neither was it unsanitary, but pigs is pigs and law is law so the pigs had to move one more step nearer the slaughterhouse, the only unrestricted place in Los Angeles for live pigs.

"They were nice, clean piggies," said the chief inspector, "but the ordinance is very strict on pigs. There are plenty of places around theaters where bears and other animals are kept and they are not half as clean as pigs, but there is no ordinance to make them move on."

PRAISE TODAY—BRICKBAT TOMORROW.

Vice President Marshall in an address at Berkeley, Tuesday, emphasized the fact that the American people praise a public official today and attack him with a brickbat tomorrow.

When a girl disappears from home there is a tendency to rush the police with a kidnapping tale, and to the papers with a photograph. When the girl returns next day, having spent a night in the home of her chum, the chances are that she fails to feel pleased.

Plans for an appropriation of $30,000 with which to advertise Utah are being considered by the appropriations committee of the state legislature, on the recommendation of the Salt Lake Commercial club. The members of the Commercial club Board of Governors have called the attention of the legislators to the fact that an immense number of people will pass through Salt Lake this year, and argue that it will afford an unexcelled opportunity to advertise the state's resources.—Judicious Advertising.

SPECIAL ATTORNEY'S FEES.
Payment of $106,000 to two special attorneys during the last two years in Illinois, by Attorney General Lucey was revealed as the result of a fight which started last week in the house appropriations committee to curtail appropriations for the employment of special attorneys to prosecute suits brought by the state insurance department against five insurance companies doing business in Illinois.

Hiram T. Gilbert and Charles LeRoy Brown are the two large beneficiaries named from the attorney general's office, by reason of their employment as special attorneys. Mr. Gilbert has been paid $85,629 and Mr. Brown has been paid $20,306, it is alleged.

JOLIET CHURCHES SHOULD ADVERTISE.
Mr. George Woodruff of the First National Bank of Joliet, Illinois, at a recent banquet declared that the Joliet churches should advertise and should have salaried business agents. "In fact," he said, "I would advocate a church trust to manage the religious institutions for the sake of greater efficiency. I would suggest the consolidation of numerous congregations in the name of economy and efficiency. That is what the trust does—combines its plants wherever they are not working to capacity and thus gets better results. The churches ought to do this in Joliet. "I want to suggest four things that a church should do for its own good: "First—Watch the business methods of business, and emulate them. Get system. "Second—Get a good location. "Third—Advertise. "Fourth—Deliver the goods."

The Legislative section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met at 1:30 in Masonic Temple Tuesday afternoon. In the absence of the chairman, Dr. Jessie A. Russell presided. The address of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Frank Wolfe, district chairman of social economies, who spoke upon the National Marketing Plan and the Rural Credit Bill.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Scott Johnson of 512 South Brand Boulevard, Tropic, entertained the committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Literary section who are preparing the program for the entertainment "The Women of the Bible." The rooms were dainty with pink carnations and ferns and refreshments were served after the business of the afternoon was finished. An elaborate program is being planned and excellent music will be given. The ladies of the committee are Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Harlan, Mrs. Clotworthy, Mrs. Grosvenor and Mrs. Johnson.

ENTERTAIN FORMER FRIENDS.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stillman Chase of Riverdale Drive held an informal reception on Tuesday afternoon for a number of Mr. Chase's former associates and friends and their families, from Duluth, Minnesota, who are now in Pasadena and Los Angeles.

The house was made attractive by dainty gold and white blossoms of California early spring time.

Mrs. Guy Bennett of Onalomea, Minnesota, assisted Mr. and Mrs. Chase in receiving. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Peyton, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Marshall, Mrs. Juliet G. Smith, Judge and Mrs. Page Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cullyford, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Killcrist and children, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crosby and daughter, Miss Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Alex W. Hartman.

CHECK REAL ESTATE GRAFTERS.

The San Pedro Chamber of Commerce should be recommended for the attempt it is making to stop the fake "harbor lot" sales by Los Angeles real estate grafters. It seems that some unscrupulous real estate dealers have been selling innocent purchasers lots that they declare will be valuable harbor frontage when the harbor improvements are all completed, and the truth is that the lots will never be anywhere near the water frontage, says the Inglewood News. Of course, the fakers do not care for a little thing like that, if they can only make the sales before the people find it out. By exposing the graft, the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce is not only taking a commendable stand in the line of honest real estate advertising, but it is setting an example to other towns within its borders that are not honest. Prospective purchasers who want harbor property and are in doubt now as to what would really be a bona fide harbor lot, can easily learn the truth by inquiring at the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, for a body that will take the stand that it has and can be trusted to tell the truth, in our opinion.

What Other People Think.
The following letter shows what outsiders think of the Glendale Union high school:

MR. G. U. MORSE, PRINCIPAL, GLENDALE UNION HIGH SCHOOL, GLENDALE, CALIF.

Dear Sir—Supplementing the writer's visit through your Mechanical Arts Building today, I wish to go on record in stating that you have a splendid building, which is well departmentized, and everything is laid out in A-1 order.

As a practical man of considerable experience, I was asked by your Mr. Oliver to criticize without fear or favor anything irregular or that was not up to the standard, and I must confess that I had absolutely no criticism whatever to offer, and wish to compliment you very highly on the manner in which your forge, machine shop, and tool room are laid out, and your drawing room cannot be excelled by any other educational institution in the country.

It was very well pleased indeed with my visit to your institution today and will be glad to refer to your Mechanical Arts building as a good standard for other institutions to follow.

Yours very truly,
W. A. DALEY,

Los Angeles manager, Pacific Tool & Supply Co.

FEDERATION DAY.

Federation Day was celebrated by the Tuesday Afternoon club yesterday at 2:30 in Maconic Hall. There were over a hundred and fifty guests present to enjoy the afternoon with the club members. Presidents from the clubs of Santa Monica, San Pedro, Long Beach, Hermosa, Redondo, Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Hollywood, and from several Pasadena clubs and several Los Angeles clubs were present, there being over a hundred representatives from club all the way from Owensmouth to Ventura.

An excellent program was given. Following are some of the numbers: Mrs. W. C. Musher, state vice president spoke briefly of the coming state convention. Mrs. H. A. Cable, district president gave a few words of greeting and Mrs. Dallas F. Cate, district vice president spoke on "Things That Every Club Member Should Know." Then followed a musical number; an arrangement of Carmen for piano and violin, rendered by Mr. Julius Kranz, violinist and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, pianist. As an encore Mr. Kranz played very beautifully the Romance from Concerto by Wienianski.

This was followed by a talk on Byron in Italy, illustrated with colored lantern slides and given by Mrs. Mary Mendenhall Parkins, a most interesting and instructive lecture.

It was announced that the pictures "Women of the Bible" will be given under the auspices of the literary section at the Glendale Union high school on Thursday evening, April 8. Also that there will be a Curio Tea at the residence of Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 101 North Brand Boulevard on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 6, under the auspices of the Hospitality committee. The proceeds from both of these entertainments will go to the building fund.

GLORY OF YELLOW.

Fields are aglow with the yellow of the poppy, and the lighter yellow of the wild mustard. Orchards gleam yellow with fruits shading from the brilliant tint of lemon to the rich gold of the orange. There is no rose more beautiful than the Reve D'Or and its kin. In other places and seasons the humble pumpkin shines in the morning sun with a radiance only excelled by that of the orb of day, calling up visions of pie. The most precious metal of common use is yellow. Aside from its value, it presents a real comeliness. So attractive is it that men will fight for it, lie for it, and have been known to die for it. Corn, the most bountiful of harvests, forerunner of peace; sustenance of the pig that makes great the Chicago packer, is yellow. Notwithstanding all this, and more, the color has won a certain disrepute that ought to be explained, and if it is not explained, then apology is due. To express the deepest contempt, one speaks of a mongrel, not as a cur, merely, but as a yellow cur. The person guilty of cowardice is condemned as having a yellow streak. And, crowning insult, there is a type of journalism so despised that in description of it language falters and almost fails, and then gathering its full strength into one epithet of scorn hurls "yellow!" at the offender, and deems that the last word in reproach has been said. Here's a chance for the psychologist to tackle a real problem.—Long Beach Telegram.

TIME TO QUIT.

There is probably no denying the statement that had Harry K. Thaw not had vast sums to back his defense he would have been convicted of the murder of Stanford White. Through the generous use of wealth he was doubtless able to convince the jury that he was insane at the time the killing took place. But whether or not he was sane at that time is not for consideration at this time. The important question right now is whether the officials of New York, in their bitter determination to punish Thaw, are succeeding in a manner that reflects any credit upon the law or increases, in any degree, the respect which the public has for the law. If he can, through the fallibility of our law, be incarcerated in an institution for the insane, and the New York officials insist upon emphasizing that fact, they are injuring the cause of law and justice much more than it was injured when Thaw's money and his brilliant attorneys secured his acquittal from the charge of murder.

This editorial is not written to express sympathy for Thaw, nor in defense of his conduct. It is written merely in the interests of the laws of the country. When Thaw sought to use every privilege which the law allows he was fighting for his life. When the officials of New York seek to keep a sane man in an institution for the insane they are acting merely from a spirit of bitterness and revenge and, of the two, Thaw's course is the more defensible. The public is sick and tired of this affair being portrayed year after year. They may have disapproved of Thaw's course in securing his acquittal from the charge of murder but they disapprove much more strongly of the course of New York officials in more persistently making the law appear a farce. The interest of society is never going to be protected by either the criminal or a public official bending the law to suit a personal purpose. But the public official, who should have society's interest uppermost, is to be censured much more strongly for bending the law than is the criminal, who, like most every human, when his life is at stake, will make use of every resource at his command. It seems to us that if New York officials can be prevailed upon to take into consideration what is for the best interests of society, they will see to it that a sane man is not incarcerated in an institution for the incarceration of the insane.—Hollywood Citizen.

FOR NEXT DAY.

A farmer lived on a lonely place and eventually a railroad was run through the district. There was one train a day and it stopped at the farmer's station on signal.

The farmer one day set the signal and the train drew up. But he did not climb aboard.

"Well, get on!" shouted the conductor. "Get on, can't ye?"

"Excuse me," said the farmer. "I don't want to get on, I only want to say that you are to stop here at this time tomorrow, as my wife is going to town to do some shopping."—Voter.

One of the astute geniuses whose business is to answer inquiries says there is no national holiday. Fourth of July, celebrated in every state and territory, acts very much like one.

As the owner of the captured Dacia has just sent his family to California in a special car costing $5000 for transportation, it may be assumed that the capture has not caused him to taste the dregs of poverty.

Mr. Sells, just before receiving his second sentence to life imprisonment, explained to the court that he did "not kill to murder, but to rob." Evidently the court could not figure out that this nice distinction in any manner favored decedent.

VARIOUS USES OF THE LEMON.

The lemon is perhaps the most wholesome of the natural foods, because of its effectiveness as a tonic to the system and a purifier of the blood. Sometimes on account of its positive citric acid, its juice is forbidden. It is a direct agent in stirring a sluggish liver, and is especially cooling to the blood. For this reason we think of the lemon as a summer fruit because we appreciate it most then and enjoy its beneficial effects upon our system more during this season than at any other time.

But the lemon is the winter friend of mankind, as well as his summer standby. The Italians use the lemon as a cure for malaria. The fruit is sliced thin, rind and pulp, and placed in a saucepan. Over this one and a half pints of cold water are poured and the whole allowed to boil down to a half pint. It is strained through cheesecloth and allowed to cool. It must be drunk while fasting and the doses should be taken for several days to be most effective.

We are more or less familiar with hot lemonade as a cure for colds. However, it is claimed that a lemon baked whole and eaten with sugar just before retiring for three nights in succession is much more effective, especially if taken with quantities of water and without the evening meal.

A lemon added to the stiffly beaten white of an egg, sweetened generously with sugar or honey is an excellent relief for hoarseness. Sometimes the juice of a lemon squeezed into a cup of strong black coffee will prevent or cure a headache. It is not merely a foreign fad to use lemon juice with tea. There is a scientific fact beneath the surface. The citric acid in the lime or lemon counteracts the effects of the tannic acid in the tea. Black, perfectly cured tea is made almost harmless by the addition of lemon juice.

A few drops of plain lemon juice is an excellent and economical tooth wash, as it not only removes the tartar, but sweetens the breath. The Italians also use the lemons as a cure for corns, binding a thin slice of the fruit across the sore spot and changing it daily.

We are all familiar with the use of lemon rind as a skin whitener and bleacher, but few of us know that a splendid manure acid may be made by adding a teaspoon of lemon juice to a cup of warm water. This removes stains from the nails and also loosens the cuticle more satisfactorily than instruments.

Lemon added to clothes while boiling will whiten them. Stains may be removed from the hands and from fabrics, as is well known, by the action of lemon juice.

The provident housewife never wastes or throws out a particle of lemon peel. There are so many uses to which it can be put and so many dainty culinary flavors can be effected by its aid that one can hardly collect enough of these rinds to answer all the needs which a knowledge of their use creates.

All lemon rinds may be saved, dried in the oven and stored in an air-tight jar to be added as flavoring to pies and puddings, syrups and jellies. If desired, they may be run through the food chopper and covered with sugar. The mixture should then be placed on a porcelain or china platter until dry, when it should be bottled for future use.

Lemons are used in various ways which do not call for the use of lemon oil, which is so abundant in the skin. This oil may be conserved by wiping the lemon with a damp cloth and then rubbing the skin or rind with lump sugar. The sugar absorbs the oil, which lends it a most delectable flavor. This may be retained for several months if the lumps are kept in tightly corked bottles. Some housewives even sprinkle sugar lumps with the grated rinds of the lemon or other citric fruit to obtain this flavor. They serve the lumps with tea or powder them to use as a flavoring for candy, icing and puddings.

Lemon extracts and flavorings may be easily made at home. If lemons begin to spoil, wipe the skins with a wet cloth, then with a dry one. Rub off the essential oil with lumps of sugar. Grate the yellow rind, being careful to get none of the white pith. Then cover with pure spirits of alcohol. If an especially strong flavor is desired, pour the strained extract from the rinds over another grating of lemon peel and allow it to stand for three weeks. Some housewives use a strong syrup or a mixture of syrup and alcohol to make this extract.

The lemon juice may be made into a syrup, which will serve either as a flavor or as the base of a delicious drink. Lemon syrup is delicious when served with waffles. Boil a cup of sugar with a quarter cup of water until it thickens slightly. Add a teaspoonful of butter and a tablespoonful of lemon juice and serve when the butter is melted.

When it is possible to secure good lemons at little cost, the provident housewife should avail herself of the opportunity, as they may be kept for an almost indefinite time by bottling them, after they have been completely covered with water. The water should be changed every two weeks. When lemons become hard and dry, as they sometimes do, pour boiling water over them to soften them. It is claimed that this treatment doubles the amount of juice.

For a war where there are no war correspondents allowed the European catastrophe certainly is keeping a lot of reporters busy.

VALLEY VIEW.

There is an epidemic of severe colds in this section, some of the cases really dangerous. Among the most seriously ill are Rev. E. A. Hoskyn of 1504 Colorado and Mrs. N. J. Hartsell of 521 Pacific, Mrs. S. H. Waller of 1618 Oak, Mrs. W. C. Bradley of 1617 Oak, Mrs. J. E. Bellue of 1641 Oak, O. L. Diamond of 1549 Vine and Mrs. S. E. Munn of 1615 Colorado, are among the sufferers, also.

George Moore and wife of 1554 West Seventh recently arrived at home from an extended Eastern tour visiting in Illinois, New York, Washington City and other eastern points.

H. C. Tribee who lives at 1461 Vine street has bought the lot at 1531 Vine and will put up a rear house on it to live in until he can build a bigger one.

Peddlers certainly are finding rich picking in this vicinity. One of them recently disposed of twenty-five or thirty "eastern cured hams" that "he had cured himself on a nearby ranch" the kind that groceries and meat markets never ask more than 15c a pound for, yet he got 20c a pound for all of them. Another man sells apples at 10c or 15c under the retail price per box, yet always fails to tell that the boxes hold less than thirty pounds of apples, while the law states the minimum to be thirty-eight pounds. Yet many people who refuse to pay the grocer $1.15 a box for thirty-eight pounds of apples will readily pay the peddler $1 to $1.25 for twenty-nine pounds of the same kind but poorer quality.

SYCAMORE AVENUE.

In yesterday's Evening News the reporter said in the minutes of the city trustees' meeting that the contract for doing street work on Sycamore Canyon had been awarded to F. R. Sinclair. It should have read Sycamore avenue instead of Sycamore Canyon.

ASSESSMENT UPON ASSESSMENTS.

Leave it to the Los Angeles city officials to devise a way to levy assessments to pay for all sorts of public improvements. A South Pasadena man told us last night of being assessed on two lots he owns in Hollywood "for improvements adjacent to Griffith Park." He doesn't even know what the improvement is, but he is assessed, nevertheless.

Here is a new reason for levying an assessment, taken from today's Times:

For many months past property owners along South Park avenue have been aggrieved because the tracks of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation have not been lowered. The franchise situation is such that the railroad does not care to go to this expense, and the city does not care to order it done by the corporation for fear of jeopardizing its rights. The public works committee yesterday recommended that the city attorney advise as to whether the city could lower the tracks itself and charge the cost to an assessment district or to the abutting properties.

Could one think of anything more ridiculous than levying an assessment to lower the tracks of a street railway company?—South Pasadena Record.

"How absurd you are, grandma," protested the girl. "O course I know what needles are for. They're to make the graphophone play."

TOO POPULAR.

Many are the stories of Dr. Weir Mitchell. This is one of them.

One day a patient came into his office and found him closing a large bundle of letters. "All resignations from committees or boards," he said gleefully. "I'm going to get off of all of them. I told my wife that when I die I want her to put on my tombstone, 'Committed to the grave!'"

Russian soldiers are perhaps better fed than those of any of the warring nations, and they have most astonishing appetites. At midday, it is said, each soldier gets a pound of meat, three pounds of black bread and a great bowl of cabbage soup. It all disappears in about an hour, and a couple of hours later they are hungry again, says an exchange. Then you can see them clubbing together to buy chickens, which they cook and eat. An hour or so later you will hear a pig squealing, and they are eating again.

The German governor of Belgium says that the Belgians work, "though without German energy." Possibly to work for a master is less enjoyable than to work for oneself. Belgian energy had managed to sustain a population of 652 to the square mile, considerably more than double the German population, for the same area, so it must be a fair quality of energy, even if at present marked by the absence of enthusiasm.

America has no war, but its bread lines and starving honest people willing to work. So we are not yet in a position to shy any stones at the glass houses of our neighbors.
